Frequently Asked Questions

- 1. *Who determines what a school can charge for admission to a game? SCISA sets a “ceiling price” for admission. This “price” is determined by the SCISA Board of Directors (one vote per member school). A school may charge any amount for admission but may not exceed the SCISA ceiling price.
- 2. *Can a school charge the maximum admission price for a varsity, JV & a B-Team game? Yes. That is a school decision.
- 3. *Can a school charge the “visitors” something different than they charge the “home” fans? Yes. Often, schools sell booster passes or have faculty passes or discounts.
